HENRY & THE RED BICYCLE

Henry wanted a new red bicycle more than anything in the world. He imagined riding on the streets of his neighborhood on the shiny bike, waving to his friends and inviting them to ride as well. Henry pictured himself racing on the trails in the woods, flying past all the trees and splashing through cool mud puddles. He scratched his head. How could he get the bike with no money of his own?

Great reading! Now let's take a closer look at the story. CLICK CONTINUE to get started!

After two months, Henry had finally earned enough for the bike. His family went to the store, and Henry rolled out with his hard-earned reward! He rode his red bicycle every day, no matter the weather. It was his new treasured possession. And because he had worked hard for it, he enjoyed his bike rides all the more!

HENRY & THE RED BICYCLE

After reading the story, I found these cause and effect relationships. I used this graphic organizer to show what I'm thinking. Check it out!

Cause	Effect
Henry wants a new red bike.	He has to do chores and earn the money to buy it.
Cause	Effect 1
Henry does chores and earns money.	He purchases the bike.
	Effect 2
	He learns the value of hard work.

OLIVIA AND THE LOST BULLDOG

Olivia loved spending time with her bulldog, Andy. Andy was the best dog on the planet! He got along with other animals, was nice to everyone, and never had accidents in the house. Best of all, Andy snuggled with Olivia and all her family members. When they were happy, sad, or lonely, Andy was always there to be a furry friend.

After many tears, Olivia decided to take action. She couldn't just sit around anymore. Andy could be scared or in trouble! So, she took some white paper and in huge, red letters she wrote:

LOST DOG!
$100.00 REWARD!
 This bulldog answers to "Andy."
 If you find him, call 555-0524.
 Thanks,
 Olivia Hanners

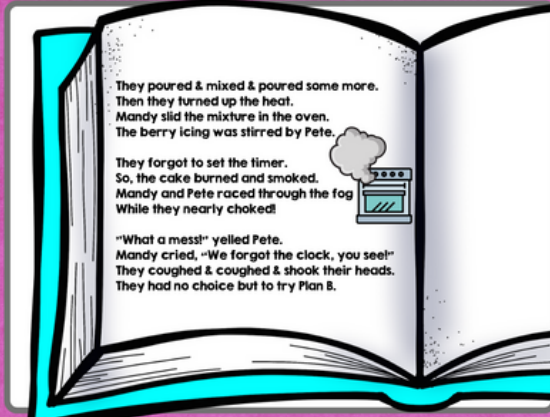

THE BIRTHDAY DISASTER

Sister Mandy and brother Pete Knew it was finally time to bake. It was their father's birthday. He deserved a homemade cake.

They would create a delicious treat, Chocolate strawberry delight. Which was dear ole Dad's favorite It was sure to make his night.

It'd be a great combo of flavors. Dad would definitely smile. But enough of that! They had to begin The recipe would take a while.

They poured & mixed & poured some more. Then they turned up the heat. Mandy slid the mixture in the oven. The berry icing was stirred by Pete.

They forgot to set the timer. So, the cake burned and smoked. Mandy and Pete raced through the fog While they nearly choked!

"What a mess!" yelled Pete. Mandy cried, "We forgot the clock, you see!" They coughed & coughed & shook their heads. They had no choice but to try Plan B.
